

Lincoln College Resident Code of Conduct

Lincoln College is a diverse community of student residents, staff and alumni. This Code of Conduct provides a clear statement of expectations for residents. It sets out a broad framework for expected behaviour, linked to the values of Lincoln College.

Lincoln expects all residents:

- To be respectful of others and of their views, background and culture, both online and in everyday life
- To respect the College, its grounds, facilities and reputation
- To maintain sound academic performance and strive to do your best academically
- To familiarise yourself with College policies, procedures, rules and expectations
- To comply with the policies and Codes of Conduct of their university
- To represent the College with integrity and pride in public and at external events
- To be a well-rounded resident in your academic and social life
- To embrace a variety of College activities and opportunities
- To seek assistance with the challenges of life
- To cooperate with staff and student leaders to make Lincoln an enjoyable and safe community for all our members

You can expect that, at Lincoln:

- You will be accepted, safe and included
- You will have fun
- You will live in an environment free from bullying, harassment, discrimination and assault
- You will be provided with academic support within a dynamic learning community
- You will be provided with social and pastoral support, and make strong friendships that enhance your life
- Your voice will be heard and respected
- You will be a member of a College held in high regard by the greater community
- You will have the opportunity to participate in a broad range of activities, events and opportunities for personal development, that will enrich your university experience
- You will develop the skills needed to function effectively as an independent adult after university
- Your physical environment will be clean and well-maintained
- You will be provided with healthy and nutritious food
- You will have the option of privacy and rest in your room as you wish for it

All residents are expected to uphold State and Federal law.

Residents who do not meet Lincoln's expectations, or who impinge on the rights of others to enjoy College life, will be counselled, and may be disciplined or excluded from the College.

Residents who feel their expectations of College are not being met should contact a member of the Executive Residential Staff to talk about a breach of the Code of Conduct. Staff will respond to complaints and enquiries objectively, fairly and promptly.

Lincoln College will give you the opportunity to grow into the person you want to be; the experience will be what you make of it. When you look back on your time in College, we want you to be proud of who you were and what you did.

I _____, understand and agree to abide by the Resident Code of Conduct while a member of the Lincoln Community.
